

If you expect to Win, you must get in and PITCH!

Help Your Students
Become Winning Showmen

Poultry	$1.00
Beef Cattle	1.00
Swine	1.00
Sheep	1.00
Dairy Cattle	1.00
Horses	1.00

ALL SIX FOR $4.80

400 Illustrations
Over 600 Pages
Pocket Size

“Selecting, Fitting and Showing”

By
H. E. LATTIG
Assistant Dean University of Idaho
and

J. E. NORDBY
Animal Husbandry Department, University of Idaho

For Your Information

We have exactly 400 copies of "300 Methods of Raising FFA Funds" and will give one with each order while they last. See request card, or you may have free booklet, "Sources of Free Illustrative Material".

Free to You for Promptness

1. You may get any of our books on approval—that means get the books, look them over, if they suit you keep them, if they don't return them without obligation. Read them before you buy.
2. Single copies sell at list price. On two or more books of same title we give a 10% discount. Our books are priced right instead of high for big discounts.
3. Our books are on deposit at J. K. Gill Co., 408 S. 5th Ave., Portland, Oregon, and Southern Library Assoc., Santa Fe Bldg., Dallas, Texas, and may be ordered from those places, if more convenient, at the same price as from Danville, Ill.

APPROVAL ORDERS FILLED ONLY AT DANVILLE, ILL.

List $3.50
1939 Copyright
(Ready in February, 1939)

A Letter from One Who Read the Manuscript

"Growers and others interested in turkeys will welcome this new book by Marsden and Martin. I enjoyed it immensely. The man on the farm will not find this book over his head, because it reads very easily. The entire field of turkey production is well covered. Turkeys growers, big or little, will profit much by reading this latest addition to their turkey library."
—DR. W. A. BILLINGS, U. of Minn.

"I have read the breeding chapter and think it is fine. It is an admirable piece of work, and I shall want several copies for our library. Let me know when it is published."—DR. L. H. SNYDER, Ohio State University.

1939 Copyright

"TURKEY MANAGEMENT"

By

STANLEY J. MARSDEN, B.S. in Agr. M.S.

Associate Poultry Husbandman, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture,
Formerly Asst. Prof. Poultry Husbandry at University of Nebraska

AND

J. HOLMES MARTIN, B.S. in Agr., Ph. D.

Director Regional Poultry Research Laboratory for U. S. D. A., East Lansing, Mich.
Formerly in charge of Poultry Husbandry and Genetics, University of Kentucky, and Editor of "Poultry Science" and Associate Editor of the "Southern Agriculturalist"

CONTENTS

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. The Turkeys' Place in American Agriculture | 9. Principles and Practices in Artificial Incubation |
| 2. History and Classification | 10. Artificial Brooding |
| 3. Terminology and Varieties | 11. Turkey Feeds and Feeding |
| 4. Shows and Art of Showing | 12. Marketing |
| 5. Breeding Principles and Practices | 13. Bad Habits and Malformations |
| 6. Care and Feeding the Breeding Stock | 14. Disease Prevention and Sanitation |
| 7. Trapnesting and Pedigree Breeding | 15. Diagnosis and Treatment of Diseases |
| 8. Natural Incubation and Brooding | 16. Business Aspects and Record Keeping |

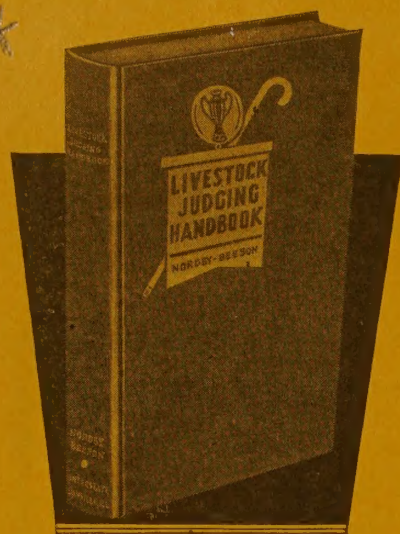

Any of Our Books Sent for Your Inspection

ORDER FROM

19-21 NORTH JACKSON STREET

THE INTERSTATE

DANVILLE, ILLINOIS

List Price $2.60
1937 Copyright

"Livestock Judging Handbook"

Nordby and Beeson

Here is the stuff that it takes to make a winning judging team, all boiled down to facts and pictures. The football coach keeps up on the latest dope—a livestock coach or team member has every reason to do the same thing. This judging business takes keen thinking—and a "jump" on the other fellow.

College Text. High School Judging Team Guide.

I used "Livestock Judging Handbook" last season and find it very good. It has a wealth of material for a high school boy.

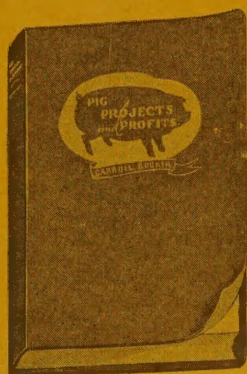

I am also using it a lot in a Livestock Judging course which I am taking at Texas Tech this summer, in fact I am using it more than any other reference which I have access to. My Instructor has listed it and recommended it highly.

Shall place an order for not fewer than 8 copies sometime before school starts next September.—J. A. SOUTH, Agri. Instructor, Demmitt, Texas.

I think that the "Livestock Judging Handbook," by Nordby and Beeson is the best of its kind that I have examined. My students particularly like the examples of sets of reasons given on rings of animals and I sincerely believe that these sets of reasons help the students to improve in giving reasons on rings of animals more than anything else I have found. ESTEL E. MILLER, Judson, Ind.

An ideal text for your Judging Courses. It is the adopted text of several colleges and universities

Draft Horses : Mules : Sheep Swine : Beef Cattle

1937 Copyright
List Price $1.25

"Pig Projects and Profits"

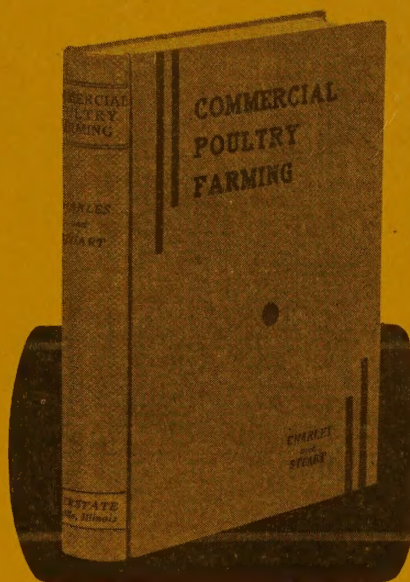

Your book, "Pig Projects," by Carroll and Rucker, has proved to be our most consistently used book on swine. The boys always refer to it first in solving their swine problems.

—KERMIT GARDNER,
Teacher of Agriculture, Reidsville, N. C.

Contents....

Selecting and Keeping Project Pigs Healthy
Feeding Project Pigs
The Barrow Project
The Gilt Project
The Sow and Litter Project
Fitting and Showing Project Pigs
Marketing Project Pigs
Scoring the Project

Any of Our Books Sent for Your Inspection

Late Edition
200 illustrations—467 pages
List Price $3.20

COMPLETE.....
BUT NOT TECHNICAL

"Commercial Poultry Farming"

By

T. B. CHARLES

Head of Poultry Department,
University of New Hampshire

AND

H. O. STUART

Head of Poultry Department,
Rhode Island State College

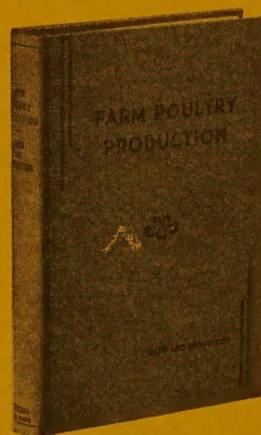

I have had a chance to examine Charles and Stuart's book, "Commercial Poultry Farming," rather carefully and have found it well written and full of valuable information. I am using this book as a reference in one of my advanced poultry courses. I have found it valuable for assigned readings. The book is written in concise, condensed form and contains a lot of practical information of commercial poultry keeping.—CLYDE INGRAM, Poultryman, Animal Industry Dept., Louisiana State University.

We used Charles and Stuart's book "Commercial Poultry Farming," in our beginning poultry course at the University of Wyoming this year. This is the first year we have used the text here, and made the change because we preferred a book which was a little more concise and elementary than the text we have been using. It is adapted to our work here where a large amount of text material is supplemented with lectures.—MACK O. NORTH, Head Poultry Section, University of Wyoming, Laramie, Wyo.

One of my boys took this book out and kept it at home for a week and when he returned it he said his parents, who were also interested in poultry, had read nearly all of it. The next time I saw his parents they were quite enthusiastic over what they had learned from the book.

I feel this is an excellent reference book and should occasion present itself would make a fine text for a course in Poultry Husbandry.—I. F. NICHOLS, Jr., Ins. Voc. Agri., Tempe, Ariz.

This is the only HIGH SCHOOL poultry text.

1937 Edition
List Price $1.80

"Farm Poultry Production"

BY

LESLIE E. CARD

Professor of Vocational Agriculture,
University of Illinois

AND

MELVIN HENDERSON

Critic Teacher of Vocational Agriculture,
University of Illinois

I wish to say that "Farm Poultry Production," by Card and Henderson, is one of the most practical books ever written on poultry production. I use it extensively in studying Poultry Enterprise.—NORMAN H. WALKER, Voc. Ag. Instructor, Holyoke, Colorado.

We have been using "Farm Poultry Production" by Card and Henderson in our freshman sections of 125 boys beginning agriculture. We find this text to be mechanically well built, good clear print, and good illustrations. The text is not too lengthy, but contains good general information on poultry production and seems to be about the right material for a beginning boy in poultry work to use. It has proven quite satisfactory in this school.—H. V. DICKSON, Head of Agriculture Dept., Kern County Union High School, Bakersfield, Calif.

"JOB OPERATIONS IN FARM MECHANICS"

SHERMAN DICKINSON

Professor of Agricultural Education, University of Missouri

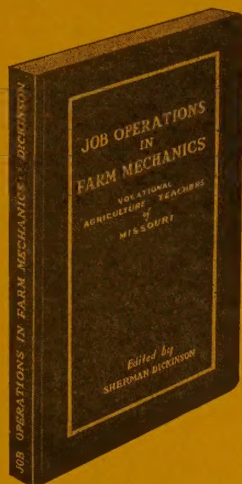

A COMBINATION TEXT AND JOB SHEETS

154 JOBS ANALYZED; 160 PAGES; 200 ILLUSTRATIONS
Excellent for instructor's guide or basic text. Substantial paper cover, sewed book, 6 x 9 inches.

CONTENTS

Woodwork	Iron Work
Drawing	Pipe Fitting
Tool Care	Concrete
Rope Work	Masonry
Glazing	Machinery
Harness	Electricity
Belts	Gas Engines
Sheet Metal

I find many helps in Job Operations—A. R. Hocking, Ag. Instructor, London, Ohio.

1936 Edition
List Price $1.25

How...

"Practical Methods in Teaching Farm Mechanics"

By

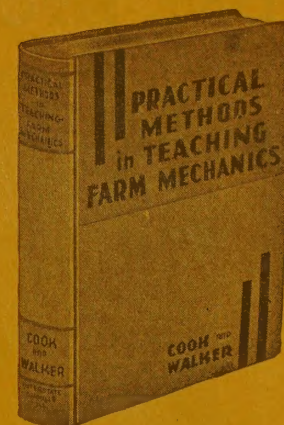

G. C. COOK

Trainer of Teachers of Farm Shop,
Michigan State College

and

CLYDE WALKER

Associate Professor of Agricultural Engineering, Oregon State College

1936 Copyright
List Price $2.22

Teaching shop can easily degenerate into confusion, hit and miss methods—just hammering. This book tells you how to conduct the shop course, how to equip the shop, grade the work done, etc.

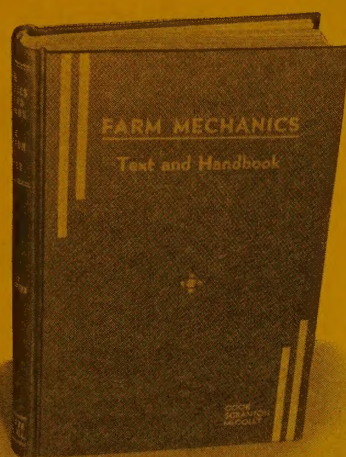

A COUPLE OPINIONS

I have obtained some very good ideas from your book "Practical Methods in Teaching Farm Mechanics" and have decided I can find more use for it.

Inclosed find check to cover this order. Your workbooks for Farm Mechanics are going to be a great help to me this year.—K. L. GILLET, Ag. Inst., Litchfield, Nebr.

I thing Farm Mechanics Text and Practical Methods in Farm Mechanics the best books of their kind I have ever seen.—E. T. FRISBIE, Teacher of Agr., Mills Riner and Fletcher Schools, Hendersonville, N. C.

I just received a copy of the book "Practical Methods in Teaching Farm Mechanics" by Cook and Walker. It is just the thing our teachers need here in Utah. I am recommending that they all make purchases of this valuable book.—MARK NICHOLS, Dir. of Agri. Education, State of Utah.

List Price $2.50

"Farm Mechanics Text & Handbook"

COOK — SCRANTON — McCOLLY

Woodwork
Painting, Finishing
Glazing
Rope Work
Belt Work, Harness
Power Transmission
Concrete
Sheet Metal
Forge
Home Conveniences
and Sanitation
Motors
Farm Machinery

Your "Farm Mechanics" book has been of unlimited help to me in my field of work and you may count on me as one of your customers.—CHAS. H. RICHARDS, Bearden, Ark.

I have examined it thoroughly and I have found nothing better than the "Farm Mechanics Text and Handbook." I think that every teacher of agriculture should have a copy of this book in his library, otherwise his library is incomplete.—LEWIS EDGAR SCOTT, Voc. Ag. Teacher, Plateau, Ala.

I am well pleased with the "Farm Mechanics Workbook" and note book and will continue to use them in my classroom.—LEONARD JOHN-SON, Belen High School, Belen, New Mexico.

"Workbook, Section I, was adopted in Springfield Twp. School. Fifteen copies of the Workbook and 5 copies of the text were purchased. These are the best books I have ever found for use in my shop classes."—E. F. HETRICK, Ag. Inst., Crestline, Ohio.

LIST PRICE

Workbook Section I, 82c
Section 2, 82c
(Deduct 15c without cover)

"Workbooks in Farm Mechanics"

By

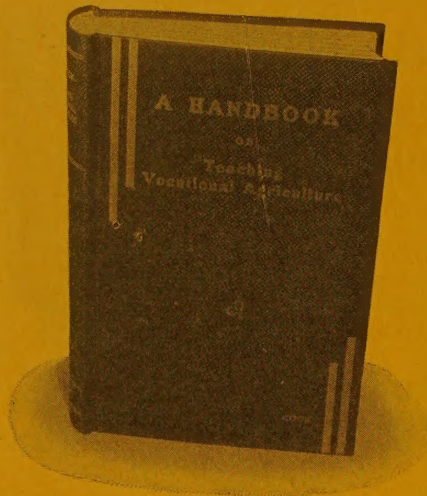

G. C. COOK

Michigan State College

These workbooks parallel this text exactly, thus eliminating the necessity of a large library. They force students to acquire some information before dashing into haphazard shopwork.

Section I has the more elemental jobs and Section II the more difficult ones. The text and workbooks make plans for your course. If you do not have students use the workbooks, at least get one of each for a teacher's guide.

ONE STOP SERVICE...

"A Handbook On Teaching Vocational Agriculture"

By

G. C. COOK

Assistant Professor
Agricultural Education,
Michigan State College

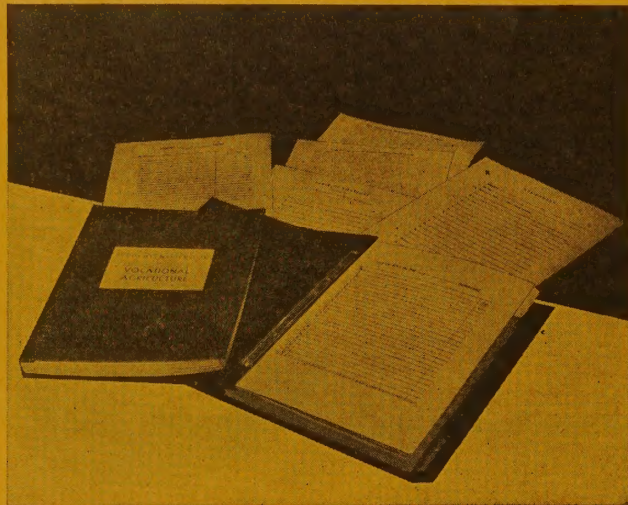

670 Pages
List Price $3.00
1938 Copyright

Here under one cover the ag teacher finds everything, from how to get a crowd out for evening school to where the experiment station of Puerto Rico is located; from the F. F. A. constitution to how to run a field trip so it won't run you. It's truly one-stop service.

REVISED — ENLARGED — NEW ILLUSTRATIONS

Cook's Handbook will be a valuable "guide for action" not only for students in pre-service courses but also for teachers in service. It has been one of the basic references in our teacher-training courses and this NEW EDITION will satisfy the needs of the teachers still better. I will see that it is on exhibit at our regional conference and will include it in our approved book list.—E. V. BEARER, T. Tr., New Jersey

We have adopted the Handbook as our guide and I have requested all vocational teachers to have it on their desks at all times and to use it.—C. S. WOODARD, T. Tr. A.M. & N., Arkansas.

PRICE, 85c in Quantities of 2 or More
A loose-leaf 300-page notebook. Works with any plan of teaching—individual or group.

Ag. Student Note Book

1. Gives a permanent record for future application for F. F. A. higher degrees.
2. Uniformity makes teaching easier and better.
3. Students like definiteness.
4. Sample sheets make its use self-explanatory.

Thirty-eight of my boys are using your notebook in two Ag classes. They like it. I think it is the only notebook I have ever used that was satisfactory in all respects.—FRANK W. FORBES, Ag. Instr., McIntosh, Minn.

NEW IN 1938

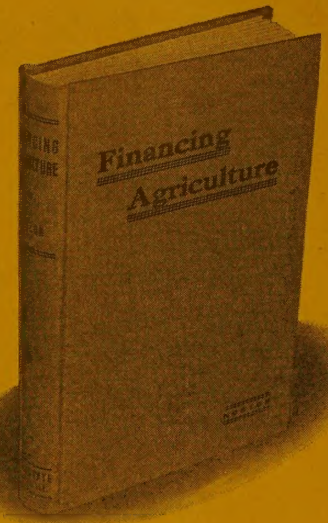

"Financing Agriculture"

By

L. J. NORTON, Ph. D.

Professor of Agricultural Economics,
University of Illinois

1. A text for agricultural finance courses.
2. Reference in economics or management courses.
3. Basis for evening or part-time class discussion.
4. Professional book—to help the teacher keep up with farm program.

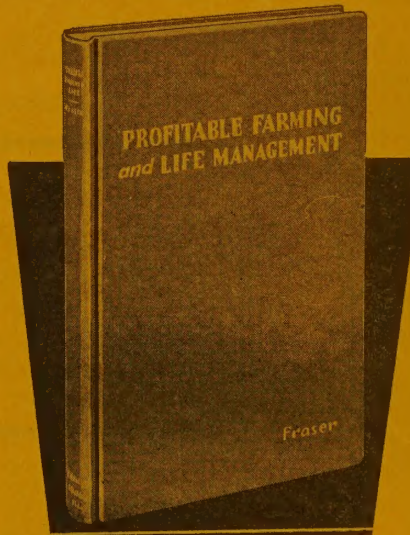

320 Pages
Copyright, 1938
List Price $2.75

Ordered by hundreds of bankers, production credit associations, high school teachers and adopted as a text at such schools as Ames, Clemson, Utah and Illinois.

23 CHAPTERS — NO PADDING

Sample Headings

1. The Sources of Capital Used in Agriculture.
2. The Sources of Borrowed Capital Used by Farmers.
5. How Long-Term Loan Capital Moves into a Community.
7. Wise Use of Credit.
8. Bases Used in Extending Credit to Farmers.
10. Making Long-Term Loans.
11. Some Problems in Long-Term Loans.
12. Making Short-Term Loans.
14. Collection and Repayment Procedures.
15. Financing Storage of Farm Procedures.
17. Financing Marketing and Other Farm Service Agencies.
18. Financing Cooperative Organizations.
19. Cooperative Financing Institutions.
22. Price Trends and Farm Financing.
23. Individual Farm Financing Programs.

"Profitable Farming and Life Management"

By

PROF. W. J. FRASER

University of Illinois

416 Pages
List $2.75
1937 Copyright

There is no way to describe this book—it is so different. Prof. Fraser has fused into the usual type of information a long life of rich experience—advice, inspiration, philosophy and sense. He touches everything from thrift to thistles and from beauty to beans.

DID YOU EVER HEAR OF A TEXT THAT INSPIRES?

HOW TO LIVE AND BE HAPPY ON A FARM IS AS IMPORTANT AS FARMING ITSELF!

A GOOD REFERENCE for Farm Management, Soils and Crops or Animal Husbandry.

A GOOD TEXT in Agricultural Economics, Rural Sociology.
PART-TIME or Evening Classes—Especially good for students old enough to appreciate the real problems of the farm.

ORDER FROM

THE INTERSTATE

19-21 NORTH JACKSON STREET

DANVILLE, ILLINOIS

Workbooks —IN FARM MANAGEMENT —IN FIELD CROPS AND SOILS

List Price $1.00
1937 Copyright

Importance of Farm Management
Planning the Field System
Inventory and Net Worth Statements
The Livestock System
Field Layouts
Crop Rotation

"Farm Management Workbook"

BY

H. C. M. Case, Ph.D.
Chief in Farm Mang., U. of Ill.

R. C. Ross, Ph.D.
Prof. of Agri. Economics, U. of I.

John Green, M.S.
Asst. Prof. of Agri. Eco., U. of I.

Planning the Farmstead
Power Requirements
Farm Accounts
Marketing
Insurance for the Farm
Credit Needs of the Farmer

I have taught college farm management many years and I know such a workbook will be especially helpful to young instructors who need a guide of this kind until after they have taught the subject for a time.—C. E. MILLER, Chairman Dept., N. Dak. State College.

I have examined the workbook in Farm Management and find that it is the book that I have wanted for a long time for my management class. Please send me immediately 19 copies of these workbooks and send the bill to me.—B. E. STICKROD, Ag. Inst., Jasper, Mo.

I wish to congratulate you on the completeness and efficiency of this Farm Management workbook. I shall take pleasure in recommending it to Colorado teachers in vocational agriculture.—L. R. DAVIES, Colo. State Supervisor.

"Field Crops and Soils"

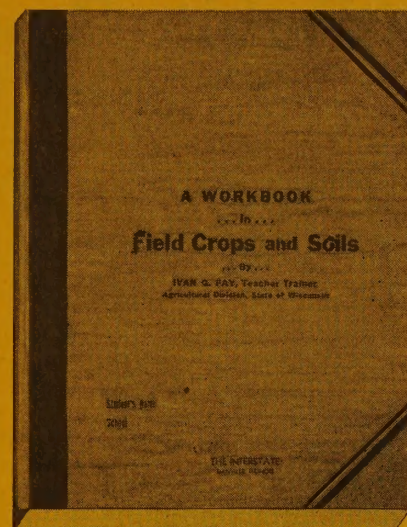

By

IVAN G. FAY

Teacher-Training,
State Dept., Wisconsin

This book is just out. Teachers in one state who examined copies at summer conference ordered 2800 copies.

1. Arranged on enterprise basis.
2. Develops approved practices.
3. Instills scientific principles back of practices.
4. Arranged in problems, sub-problems and questions for discussion and study.
5. Fits into any teaching plan.
6. Has very definite instructions to the teacher.

Approximately 200 pp.
1938 Copyright
List 87 Cents

EXCERPTS FROM CONTENTS

- | | |
|---|--|
| Prob. 2—Can We Improve Our Corn Yield by Selecting Better Seed? | the Fertility of Our Soil? |
| Prob. 3—Can We Control Losses from Weeds? | Prob. 7—Preparing a Good Seed Bed. |
| Sub-Prob. A—Classes of Soils. | Prob. 11—Can We Improve Our Varieties of Corn? |
| Prob. 5—How Can We Maintain | Prob. 12—Judging Small Grain. |
| | Prob. 18—Liming for Legumes. |

A Good Text and Reference Book for . . .

Economics — Farm Management — Marketing

"Marketing of Farm Products"

By

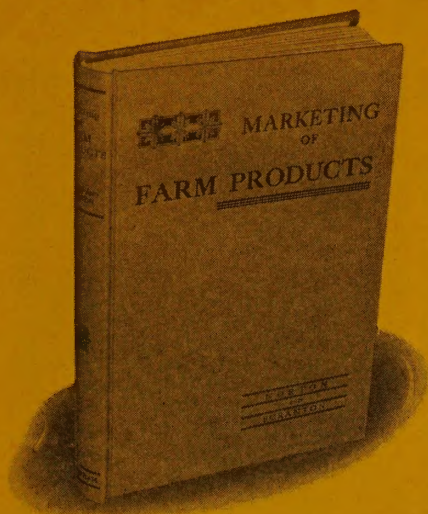

L. J. NORTON

Professor of Economics and Assistant Chief of Agricultural Economics,
University of Illinois

AND

L. L. SCRANTON

Assistant Professor of Agricultural Education, North Dakota Agricultural College

List Price $2.00

Will serve as a text for a semester or year in marketing, economics or farm management. Or it is ideal to supply marketing information in connection with course in crops, animal husbandry, etc.

We use "Marketing Farm Products" by Norton and Scranton as our text-book for the second semester's work in Farm Management.

The book is well organized and is written on the level with H. S. students. It contains enough theory, scientific data, and problems to make the book very usable.—LOWELL A. HODAM, Vo-Ag. Instructor, Bement, Ill.

Enclosed please find my check to cover the cost of this book. After looking through it I believe it will prove a valuable addition to my work.—RALPH BENTON, Beatrice High School, Beatrice, Neb.

I have found your book "The Marketing of Farm Products" to be of great help to me in presenting facts of importance regarding agricultural marketing to my Vocational students in a simple, clear, yet forceful manner. It contains recent information written in a manner particularly adapted to High School students.—IRVING GERHARDT, Vo-Ag. Instr., Mauston, Wis.

I have your letter of June 10 in regard to the textbook "Marketing Farm Products" by Norton and Scranton. We have used this text in our Junior and Senior classes for the past three years and find it well suited to our needs.

I have heard students comment particularly on the ease in which the various chapters may be studied, and the manner in which the topics are presented for introductory discussions as a basis for assignments at the beginning of each chapter.

I personally feel that the above mentioned feature and the exercises and problems at the end of each chapter are very valuable.—GLENN O. NAY, Head of Agri. Dept., Shafter, Calif.

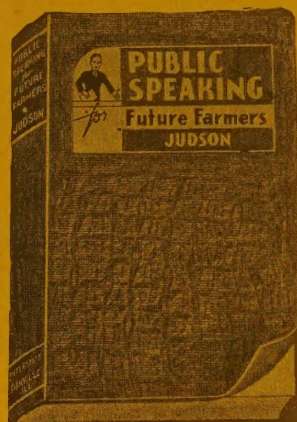

I have just recently received a copy of "Marketing Farm Products" by Norton and Scranton, published by your firm and think it an excellent book. You may bill me for it as I intend to keep it for my use in class work. Will you kindly send me for examination as indicated per inclosed card a copy of a "Handbook on Teaching Vocational Agriculture", by Cook and one sampe Ag Binder.—T. W. COLBY, Voc. Agr. Teacher, Owasso, Okla.

I have looked the books, which were sent me on approval, over carefully and have decided to retain them. They will be a valuable addition to my reference.—E. G. CAUBLE, JR., Voc. Agr. Inst., Big Lake, Texas.

This is one of the best organized books on this subject for the use of teachers of vocational agriculture.—LEON E. COOK, Prof. Educ., N. C. State College.

• FOUR ACES of F. F. A. •

"Public Speaking for Future Farmers"

L. S. JUDSON
University of Wisconsin

Full of examples of winning speeches. Tells how to outline and prepare, as well as deliver a good speech. Good information for teacher or student.

288 Pages
List Price $2.00

Dear Sirs:

I found your book very useful. My public speaker won the state public speaking contest. The book was very helpful.—GUS. A. EIDSON, Vo.-Ag. Inst., Danville, Ark.

The farmer in the past has not been instructed in public speaking. As a result of this others have had to do it for him and have failed to secure for him a square deal in legislation. Such books as yours are a real aid in helping our young farmers to properly express themselves before groups. This improved expression should put the farmer in a better position when his needs, aims, purposes and desires must be brought to the attention of others.—ELMER J. JOHNSON, Dir. of Vocations, Ft. Morgan, Colo.

A Valuable Collection of Information for Making the F. F. A. a Success

"FUN and WORK"

1935 Edition
List Price $2.00

Others Say This:

Every chapter could profitably own one or more of these Handbooks. The material on programs of work for FFA activities has been brought together from wide experiences of chapters all over the United States, and gives a good view of new and interesting activities. A number of games and new types of sports are described. Valuable reference on plays and Future Farmers materials and songs are used. This handbook should be consulted by the committees planning their entertainment programs and activities.—MONTANA VOC. AGR. NEWS BULLETIN.

Please find enclosed check for $2.00 to pay for "Fun and Work for F. F.", which you allowed me to take for examination. The boys certainly want it.—GEORGE H. BARNES, Ag. Dept., Presque Isle, Me.

The name of the book "Fun and Work" attracted the attention of chapter officers as well as their advisor. It has served as a Bible so to speak for chapter activities, particularly our socials. We have found a variety of material that makes work in an F.F.A. organization stimulating and interesting. Many of my boys through activities that came from "Fun and Work" have grasped a new vision of agriculture and truly a new era of farming and farm life.—S. C. DOUGHTY, Instr., Weogufka, Ala.

"Short Stories for Future Farmers"

Edited by
A. W. NOLAN, Ph.D.
University of Illinois

Start a chapter library with this volume full of real farm boy

Stories—Action, Outdoors, Thrills, Mystery, Information

1936 Copyright
List Price $1.67

—everything boys like to read. Based on farm boys' experiences. No questionable or objectionable material included.

Boys will beg you to get more like it. They will wear the book out. Farm boys' KIND OF FICTION has been lacking.

"Short Stories for Future Farmers" was the most popular reference book in our F.F.A. library last year. It was the one book the boys took turns taking home.—A. L. CANTERBURY, Virginia, Illinois.

"Short Stories for Future Farmers" has been in our library for the past year. This book has been used in a reading class. It has been used almost exclusively by boys studying agriculture and principally by the boys who have not yet started reading longer, more serious works. The stories are satisfactory. The library card shows considerable use.—A. H. ENGLISH, Principal High School, Princetown, Calif.

"Programs for Future Farmer Chapter Meetings"

A. W. TENNEY

Associate Professor of Agricultural Education, University of Florida

1938 Copyright
List $2.30

If you have an F.F.A. Chapter, run it right.

I think Tenney's new book has some splendid ideas for chapter meetings of the Future Farmers of America.—J. A. LINKE, Chief, Agr.-Ed. Service.

The State Supervisor recommends that each chapter of NFA in Florida purchase a copy of this new book—"Programs for Future Farmer Chapter Meetings."—Florida News Letter.

"Programs for Future Farmers" is very good, I think, and will be of much help to me.—C. H. COOLER, Ag. Inst., Williston, S. C.

How Do You Keep Your Bulletins?

Note the New Inside Fastener Permitting Any Size Volume Up to 3 Inches. Will Not Scratch Desk.

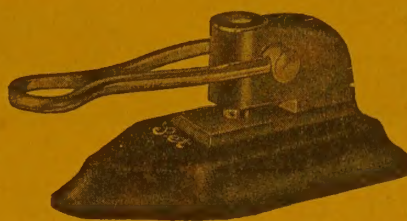

Here is a set of "books" one instructor made by binding his bulletins with Ag Binders.

HOW! Assemble bulletins by subjects, punch holes in bulletins, slip on the Ag Binder, press down the fasteners—Presto! there's a "book" worth 10 times the 25 cents the binder cost you.

Wisconsin, Iowa and Tennessee alone used 10,000 binders this year.

COVER, INDEX SHEET AND FASTENER FOR 1 VOLUME—25c

1. Special sizes for your magazines, notes and letters at slightly higher price. We make any size.
2. Many instructors want students to acquire the habit of preserving their bulletins; of leaving school with a few volumes of good bulletins.

Handy Punch for Punching Bulletins.
PRICE $1.00

What! No Punch?

This one punches up to 48 pages at a time.

Like everything, it is sent on approval.

EXTRA ITEMS

List Price $1.00

"Secrets of Winning Basketball"

BY

MARK A. PETERMAN
Athletic Director,
Springfield, Ill.

One of America's outstanding coaches has a book with a system of basketball that wins.

If you have to coach, here's a good place to spend a dollar. This system has taken Peterman's teams to State Finals 10 times.

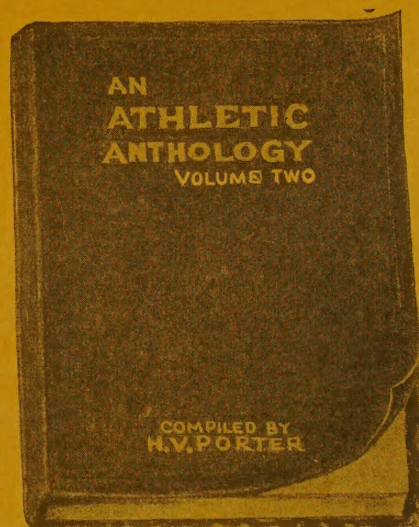

It reads like a story book.

"An Athletic Anthology"

BY

H. V. PORTER
Editor,
"Illinois Athlete"

If you are called on to speak, here is a collection of athletic verse and philosophy that clicks. Thousands have been sold. You'll like it for your library.

Bound in Beautiful Colors of Suede
List Price $1.00

Any of Our Books Sent for Your Inspection

ORDER FROM

THE INTERSTATE

19-21 NORTH JACKSON STREET

DANVILLE, ILLINOIS

19-21 North Jackson Street
DANVILLE, ILLINOIS

The Agriculture Instructor's
Friend—

The Interstate

is here with

“MORE GOOD STUFF”

Two free booklets offered.
(See inside)

Sec. 562, P. L. & R.

U. S. Postage
PAID
Danville, Ill.
Permit No. 50